DETAILED ACTION

Status of Claims

1. Claims 1-17 are currently under examination.

Specification

2. The following guidelines illustrate the preferred layout for the specification of a utility application. These guidelines are suggested for the applicant's use.

Arrangement of the Specification

As provided in 37 CFR 1.77(b), the specification of a utility application should include the following sections in order. Each of the lettered items should appear in upper case, without underlining or bold type, as a section heading. If no text follows the section heading, the phrase "Not Applicable" should follow the section heading:

- (a) TITLE OF THE INVENTION.
- (b) CROSS-REFERENCE TO RELATED APPLICATIONS.
- (c) STATEMENT REGARDING FEDERALLY SPONSORED RESEARCH OR DEVELOPMENT.
- (d) THE NAMES OF THE PARTIES TO A JOINT RESEARCH AGREEMENT.
- (e) INCORPORATION-BY-REFERENCE OF MATERIAL SUBMITTED ON A COMPACT DISC.
- (f) BACKGROUND OF THE INVENTION.
 - (1) Field of the Invention.
 - (2) Description of Related Art including information disclosed under 37 CFR 1.97 and 1.98.
- (g) BRIEF SUMMARY OF THE INVENTION.
- (h) BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE SEVERAL VIEWS OF THE DRAWING(S).
- (i) DETAILED DESCRIPTION OF THE INVENTION.
- (j) CLAIM OR CLAIMS (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (k) ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (l) SEQUENCE LISTING (See MPEP § 2424 and 37 CFR 1.821-1.825. A "Sequence Listing" is required on paper if the application discloses a nucleotide or amino acid sequence as defined in 37 CFR 1.821(a) and if the required "Sequence Listing" is not submitted as an electronic document on compact disc).

Claim Objections

3. Claims 4-7 and 11-16 are objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c) as being in improper form because a multiple dependent claim should refer to other claims in the alternative only, and/or, cannot depend from any other multiple dependent claim. See MPEP § 608.01(n).

In the instant Office Action, the examiner is examining the claims based on the broadest interpretation of the claim features as written.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claims 1-13 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

6. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

7. Claims 1-13 and 17 provide for the use of an aqueous treatment solution, but, since the claim does not set forth any steps involved in the method/process, it is unclear what method/process applicant is intending to encompass. A claim is indefinite where it merely recites a use without any active, positive steps delimiting how this use is actually practiced.

Art Unit: 1793

Claims 1-13 and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed recitation of a use, without setting forth any steps involved in the process, results in an improper definition of a process, i.e., results in a claim which is not a proper process claim under 35 U.S.C. 101. See for example Ex parte Dunki, 153 USPQ 678 (Bd.App. 1967) and Clinical Products, Ltd. v. Brenner, 255 F. Supp. 131, 149 USPQ 475 (D.D.C. 1966).

Double Patenting

8. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the “right to exclude” granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

9. Claims 1-17 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 7-18 of Bello et al. U.S. Patent No. 6,528,182 B1(Bello). Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because claims 7-18 of Bello teaches zinc-plated steel surface treatment process comprising applying an aqueous coating solution comprising more than 0.07mol/l of sulfate ions and more than 0.01 mol/l of zinc ions to the zinc-plated steel surface, anodically polarizing the treated surface at a current density of great than 20A/dm² to form a coating layer comprising 3.5-27mg/m² of hydroxysulfate, rinsing the treated surface and subsequently applying a film of lubricating oil on coated surface. Even though claims of Bello do not explicitly teach coating weight of the lubricating oil film, one of ordinary skill in the art would have found it obvious to have routinely optimized the coating weight of the lubricating oil film by varying the lubrication treatment time in order to achieve desired amount of lubrication.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

10. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

11. Claims 1-13 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by WO 00/15878, whose corresponding English equivalent is Bello et al. US 6,528,182 B1(Bello).

The teachings of Bello are discussed in paragraph 9 above.

Therefore, Bello teaches a zinc-plated steel surface treatment process that is the same as claimed process. In addition, since Bello's treatment solution is exactly the same as claimed, the coating formed by the process of Bello would inherently comprise zinc hydroxysulfate and zinc sulfate as claimed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

12. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

13. Claim 14 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over WO 00/15878, whose corresponding English equivalent is Bello et al. US 6,528,182 B1(Bello).

The teachings of Bello are discussed in paragraphs 9 and 11 above.

Regarding claim 14, Bello further teaches applying about 1g/m^2 of lubricating oil on treated zinc-plated steel surface(col. 8 lines 7-14), which reads on the claimed lubricating oil weight of less than 1g/m^2 based on the broadest reasonable interpretation. Alternatively, the lubricating oil film weight as taught by Bello is very close to the claimed lubricating oil film weight. Therefore, a prima facie case of obviousness exists. See MPEP 2144.05. Therefore, a prima facie case of obviousness exists. See MPEP 2144.05. The selection of claimed lubricating oil film weight range from the disclosed range of Bello would have been obvious to one skilled in the art since Bello teaches the same utilities in its' disclosed lubricating oil film weight range.

14. Claims 15-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over WO 00/15878, whose corresponding English equivalent is Bello et al. US 6,528,182 B1(Bello).

The teachings of Bello are discussed in paragraphs 9, 11 and 13 above.

Regarding claims 15-16, even though Bello does not teach the claimed lubricating oil film weight, one of ordinary skill in the art would have found it obvious to have routinely optimized the coating weight of the lubricating oil film by varying the lubrication treatment time in order to achieve desired amount of lubrication.
